Details:

15320 and 15148 Welding arms used to provide source capture at technical school

North Montco Technical Career Center has undergone several renovations in the past two years and the welding center was one of the focus points. The school, with 1,100 students, offers training in several technical trades.

In the weld shop, 17 internal support Monoxivent arms were introduced. This included the compact 15320 (6" diameter) in 14 smaller booths and the versatile 15148 (8" diameter) in three larger work areas.

The source capture arms allow students to train in a safe and clean work environment.

Larry Frantz, from Effective Controls East, served as the project coordinator and as the Monoxivent sales representative.
